Participation in School Life

Cole is a courteous, cheerful, well organised young man with an excellent record of punctuality and attendance. Quietly confident, thoughtful and hardworking, he makes the most of opportunities and strives to do his best. He is mature, independent and friendly, always maintaining good relationships with others, accepting advice and responding with a smile. Although Cole enjoys planning his own time and works well without supervision, he is quick to offer assistance to anyone around him needing help. He never uses challenging situations as excuses, preferring to expend extra effort and mitigate or overcome them. We warmly recommend Cole, believing that his curiosity, resilience and perseverance will serve him well, and wish him all the best.
